Thank you – Sandler celebrates company anniversaries 2016

For more than 30 years Sandler has been holding a celebration each November to thank its staff members for their continued dedication and commitment to the company. The management acknowledged company anniversaries, successfully completed apprenticeships and further trainings, and gave a fond farewell to employees starting retirement.

This year, Board Members and Directors honoured 80 jubilarians for their longstanding loyalty; 23 junior staff members, who successfully completed their apprenticeship; 34 employees, who took part in further training to become nonwovens experts; four staff members, who completed individual further training; and six employees, who started their well-deserved retirement.

In his address, President & CEO Dr. Christian Heinrich Sandler looked back on the investments and projects that shaped 2016—above all developing the new production plant in Perry, Georgia, USA. He went on to thank all staff members, who made all of this possible through their dedication, their time and their energy: „Dear employees, on behalf of my fellow board members, our supervisory board, and our family I would like to thank you all for your exemplary commitment and your long years of service for the benefit of our company.“

Bärbl Sandler, Chief Human Resources Officer, also acknowledged the staff members' achievements. She congratulated former Sandler apprentices, who became part of the Sandler Team after successfully completing their vocational training this year: „You took the first step on your career ladder! Now, it is important for you to gain experience and face the challenges of working life, which are likely to grow in the future. In everything you do I wish you God's blessing, success, and the best of luck. I am looking forward to successfully working together in our team.“

These jubilarians celebrated 10 and 15 years in the Sandler team.

These jubilarians have been part of the company for 20 and 25 years.

These jubilarians look back on 30-, 35- and 40-year careers at Sandler.

Tomorrow's professionals: former apprentices, who successfully completed their vocational training in 2016.

Learning for life: These Sandler staff members successfully completed further trainings, among other training to become nonwovens experts.

These staff members helped advance the company with their suggestions for improvement in the employee suggestion system—they had submitted the largest number of suggestions that were awarded in 2016.
